Supplier Officers Elected

The National Ice Cream Retailers Suppliers Association elected their officers at the 74th Annual Convention held November 7-10, 2007 at the Crowne Plaza Hotel, San Antonio, Texas.

Elected as president of the association was Rich Draper, The Ice Cream Club, Boynton Beach, Florida. Tom Zak, Concord Foods, Brockton, MA was elected vice president. Margaret Anderson, Taylor Freezer of New England, Norwood, Massachusetts was elected as secretary/treasurer. Jay Rentschler, Upstate Farms Cooperative, Buffalo, New York becomes chairman.

The National Ice Cream Retailers Association is a trade organization whose members are in the retail ice cream; soft serve; frozen custard, gelato; frozen yogurt and water ice businesses. The members of NICRA are located all across the United States, Canada and several other countries. They operate hundreds of stores and have estimated annual sales in the millions. They employ thousands of full- and part-time employees. Since 1933, NICRA has helped hundreds of ice cream and frozen dessert entrepreneurs get started and prosper.
